

The Company

Mission Statement

Euro Risk Limited enables and empowers individuals and organizations to professionally deal with opportunities and risks

Services

Strategic Risk Management

Risk management is the duty and responsibility of the top leaders and of the management of any organization and is a part of strategic management.

Statutory provisions, such as directors' and officers' liability as well as specific regulations (eg Code of Obligations in Switzerland, KonTraG in Germany, and Association Liability Act in Austria) regulate in a variety of ways that responsibility.

Our experts will help you with appropriate risk management concepts to comply with the legal and regulatory requirements.

Specialities

Our specialties cover the risks:

- in industry, construction and large projects
- energy, transportation and automotive
- healthcare, medical devices, pharmaceuticals and food
- Financial services such as banks and insurance
- other risks

Our experts are familiar with the safety/security risks as well as with the strategic / business risks of different industries and service sectors. They develop the necessary solutions for private and public organizations and technical systems.

Business Continuity Management

If losses occur in spite of preventive risk management, the extraordinary situation requires an emergency, crisis and a business continuity management. Crisis management and communication are part of a comprehensive risk management.

Our experts will assist you in the design and implementation of crisis management and make your business continuity management working, so that the necessary operating functions can be recovered soon.

Unternehmen

Services

Risk Management System

Larger organizations need a risk management system, preferably embedded in the existing management system.

The risk management policy of the Board lines out the principles and implementation of risk management and their integration into existing business processes. The evaluation of the performance of risk management and continuous improvement are part of the risk management system.

Our experts design and implement a risk management system and review its performance and effectiveness.

Training

Euro Risk Limited is offering - partly together partner companies - introduction courses in risk management, conferences and expert meetings (eg. medical devices) and trains risk managers for achieving the required qualifications.

The trainings demonstrate the functioning and the benefits of risk management. They enable risk owners and risk managers to implement risk management in their organization.

We are aware that the organizations have to perform these tasks ultimately themselves. With our consulting activities and with the trainings on the other side we provide an improved approach to risk, promote risk awareness and create a risk culture. We enable risk owners and their teams for managing risks taking into consideration standards and legal requirements.

We provide you professional support.

Quality

Euro Risk Limited is certified in accordance with ISO 9001.

The certificate ISO 9001 is a precondition for Euro Risk Limited to operate as an independent provider of trainings and education for qualified Risk Managers.

This personal certificate for qualified Risk Managers is granted by a competent and officially licensed entity, based on the 'ON' rules and regulations of the Austrian Standards Organization.
